

THE NEW AUGUST Victor Records ARE MAKING A BIG HIT, COME IN AND HEAR THEM

We extend you a cordial invitation to visit our soundproof rooms and hear these Records played—where also we have on exhibition every style

Victor-Victrola
MADE.
Prices, $15.00 to $200.00.

The Corley Company

"The House That Made Richmond Musical"
Wholesale and Retail DISTRIBUTORS

BUREAU PLANS FOR GIANT RECEPTION

Appoints Large Working Committee for Better Acquaintance Week.

Entertainment details for "Better Acquaintance Week," as well as the matters of financing the enterprise and apportioning its cost, occupied the attention of the Trade Extension Bureau, which held a two-hour business session yesterday afternoon at the Business Men's Club. A majority of the membership was present, and Alvin M. Smith presided.

The committee gave its official approval to the entertainment program which had been published previously in tentative form. In addition to the main features already announced, C. W. Antin and Sons will, during the six days of the big business reception, serve a daily lunch at their place of business. Duly accredited merchants and visitors will be served without cost.

The chairman appointed special committees as follows: on headquarters, A. H. Pelthaus, hotels and railroads, J. T. Palmatary, tickets and amusements, Horace E. Smith and Alvin M. Smith. The men named will serve as chairmen, and will call to their assistance as many as are needed to take care of these features of "Better Acquaintance Week."

Chairman Smith appointed as members of the working reception committee the following men:

W. M. Long, Southern Bargain House; M. M. Anderson, Anderson, Lewis & Gray Co.; H. M. Gilmour, Snyder & Hurdley; R. B. Roberts, Jr., Roberts & Hoge Shoe Co.; Grover C. Dula, West, Hurdley & Co.; J. H. Kaufman, Kaufman & Co.; Ira Y. Stern, Stern & Co.; J. B. Pinder, Virginia-Carolina Hardware Co.; P. L. Reid, Lorus Bros. Co.; John H. Hill, Hill, Hill & Co.; City Bank; Harry Mark, Harry Mark Clothing Co.; F. W. Brown, Gordon Metal Co.; W. H. Miles, W. H. Miles Shoe Co.; W. A. Williams, Williams, Williams & Reed; J. E. Kaufman, Southern Store Works; Alvin M. Smith, Smith-Courney Co.; Aaron Clarke, H. Clarke & Sons; J. T. Palmatary, Cottrell Saddlery Co.; E. B. Snyder, Richmond Dry Goods Co.; H. H. Smith, Stephen Putney Shoe Co.; P. P. Murray, E. B. Taylor Co.; James Richardson, Harrison & Co.; C. J. Freeman, Freeman, Harrison & Co.; C. F. Sauer & Co.; C. H. Watkins, Watkins, Cottrell Co.; J. St. George Bryan, The Times-Dispatch; Hawes Coleman, Win. F. Ellis & Co.; Crump, Stone, Co.; J. Sands, American National Bank; John M. Miller, First National Bank; Thos. E. McAdams, Merchants National Bank; R. H. Smith, Planters National Bank.

Raiders Tickets on Sale Here.
Don't delay ordering your season tickets for the big Raiders Series of Artists' Concerts. Splendid selection of seats now available. Phone or mail check to Moses Piano Co. and tickets will be sent immediately by mail or agent—Advertisement.

Wonderful Blood Remedy Brings Health to a Host of Sufferers.

The remarkable action of S. S. S. in the blood is given impetus by a letter received from Earl C. Cook, 708 South Center St., Bloomington, Ill. He says, "I suffered several months and took treatment here, but obtained relief only for a few days at a time. Becoming doubtful of results, I quit the doctors."

and there was marked improvement from the start. I used thirteen bottles of S. S. S. and was entirely cured. My blood was in a dreadful condition, and I can not thank S. S. S. enough for my wonderful recovery."

This preparation stands alone among specific remedies as a blood purifier, since it accomplishes all that has ever claimed for mercury, iodides, arsenic and other destructive mineral drugs, and yet it is absolutely a purely vegetable product. These facts are brought out in a highly interesting book compiled by the medical department of The Swift Specific Co., 192 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. It is mailed free, together with a special letter of advice to all who are struggling with a blood disease.

Get a bottle of S. S. S. to-day of your druggist. It will surprise you with its wonderful action in the blood.

$100

To Those Having or More Saved

5 1/2% Guaranteed

Richmond Trust & Savings Co., Trustees.

TRADE EXTENSION BUREAU PLANNING FOR BIG WEEK

Photo by Foster.

CONFERENCE ON FISH PROTECTION

Governors and Commissioners of Virginia and Maryland Will Be Present.

Washington, August 6.—To discuss plans for the protection of the fish and fishing industry of the Chesapeake Bay and its tributaries, Dr. E. L. Jones, deputy commissioner of the United States Fish Commission, has arranged for a conference to be held here about the middle of September between Secretary Rehnfeldt of the Department of Commerce, and the Governors and fish commissioners of Virginia and Maryland.

The conference will consider a bill introduced by Representative Linthicum, of Maryland, which would grant Federal protection, and discuss means to be adopted in case the measure is not passed.

Dr. Jones said to-day that the best plan would be to have Federal supervision of fishing in the Chesapeake and its tributaries, but if this could not be obtained, the two States should pass laws establishing a closed season from sunset Saturday until Monday morning.

Dr. Jones said to-day that the best plan would be to have Federal supervision of fishing in the Chesapeake and its tributaries, but if this could not be obtained, the two States should pass laws establishing a closed season from sunset Saturday until Monday morning.

Dr. Jones said to-day that the best plan would be to have Federal supervision of fishing in the Chesapeake and its tributaries, but if this could not be obtained, the two States should pass laws establishing a closed season from sunset Saturday until Monday morning.

Dr. Jones said to-day that the best plan would be to have Federal supervision of fishing in the Chesapeake and its tributaries, but if this could not be obtained, the two States should pass laws establishing a closed season from sunset Saturday until Monday morning.

Dr. Jones said to-day that the best plan would be to have Federal supervision of fishing in the Chesapeake and its tributaries, but if this could not be obtained, the two States should pass laws establishing a closed season from sunset Saturday until Monday morning.

Dr. Jones said to-day that the best plan would be to have Federal supervision of fishing in the Chesapeake and its tributaries, but if this could not be obtained, the two States should pass laws establishing a closed season from sunset Saturday until Monday morning.

Dr. Jones said to-day that the best plan would be to have Federal supervision of fishing in the Chesapeake and its tributaries, but if this could not be obtained, the two States should pass laws establishing a closed season from sunset Saturday until Monday morning.

Dr. Jones said to-day that the best plan would be to have Federal supervision of fishing in the Chesapeake and its tributaries, but if this could not be obtained, the two States should pass laws establishing a closed season from sunset Saturday until Monday morning.

Dr. Jones said to-day that the best plan would be to have Federal supervision of fishing in the Chesapeake and its tributaries, but if this could not be obtained, the two States should pass laws establishing a closed season from sunset Saturday until Monday morning.

Dr. Jones said to-day that the best plan would be to have Federal supervision of fishing in the Chesapeake and its tributaries, but if this could not be obtained, the two States should pass laws establishing a closed season from sunset Saturday until Monday morning.

Dr. Jones said to-day that the best plan would be to have Federal supervision of fishing in the Chesapeake and its tributaries, but if this could not be obtained, the two States should pass laws establishing a closed season from sunset Saturday until Monday morning.

Dr. Jones said to-day that the best plan would be to have Federal supervision of fishing in the Chesapeake and its tributaries, but if this could not be obtained, the two States should pass laws establishing a closed season from sunset Saturday until Monday morning.

Dr. Jones said to-day that the best plan would be to have Federal supervision of fishing in the Chesapeake and its tributaries, but if this could not be obtained, the two States should pass laws establishing a closed season from sunset Saturday until Monday morning.

Dr. Jones said to-day that the best plan would be to have Federal supervision of fishing in the Chesapeake and its tributaries, but if this could not be obtained, the two States should pass laws establishing a closed season from sunset Saturday until Monday morning.

Dr. Jones said to-day that the best plan would be to have Federal supervision of fishing in the Chesapeake and its tributaries, but if this could not be obtained, the two States should pass laws establishing a closed season from sunset Saturday until Monday morning.

Dr. Jones said to-day that the best plan would be to have Federal supervision of fishing in the Chesapeake and its tributaries, but if this could not be obtained, the two States should pass laws establishing a closed season from sunset Saturday until Monday morning.

NO INTENTION TO FORCE ACTION

Railroads Showing Their Willingness to Co-Operate With Commerce Commission.

New York, August 6.—Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad and leader and spokesman for the fifteen Eastern railroads seeking an advance in freight rates, denied today that the filing of tariff calling for an increase of 5 percent in rates would indicate a desire to force early action on the part of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Mr. Willard said that the time the Interstate Commerce Commission refused to grant the request of the railroads to open case No. 349, which is known as the rate case, the commission said it would order an investigation of the whole matter. Two of the commissioners in a minority report stated that in their opinion the commission could not properly go into the matter unless actual tariffs had been printed and filed and were before the commission in evidence.

In view of the objection raised by the members, said Mr. Willard, "the railroads concluded to go ahead with the filing of the new tariff along the lines indicated in their application, and to file such tariffs as soon as they could be prepared, in order that actual tariffs might be before the commission when the matter comes up for consideration, thus meeting the objections raised by the minority report."

The filing of the tariffs as now contemplated does not in any sense indicate friction between the railroads and the commission, but quite contrary. It indicates, if anything, a desire on the part of the railroads to comply fully with the expressed wishes of the commission and should be so understood by the public. The tariffs to be filed will very likely be suspended by the commission until an inquiry of the whole question can be conducted.

Dr. Jones said to-day that the best plan would be to have Federal supervision of fishing in the Chesapeake and its tributaries, but if this could not be obtained, the two States should pass laws establishing a closed season from sunset Saturday until Monday morning.

Dr. Jones said to-day that the best plan would be to have Federal supervision of fishing in the Chesapeake and its tributaries, but if this could not be obtained, the two States should pass laws establishing a closed season from sunset Saturday until Monday morning.

Dr. Jones said to-day that the best plan would be to have Federal supervision of fishing in the Chesapeake and its tributaries, but if this could not be obtained, the two States should pass laws establishing a closed season from sunset Saturday until Monday morning.

Dr. Jones said to-day that the best plan would be to have Federal supervision of fishing in the Chesapeake and its tributaries, but if this could not be obtained, the two States should pass laws establishing a closed season from sunset Saturday until Monday morning.

Dr. Jones said to-day that the best plan would be to have Federal supervision of fishing in the Chesapeake and its tributaries, but if this could not be obtained, the two States should pass laws establishing a closed season from sunset Saturday until Monday morning.

Dr. Jones said to-day that the best plan would be to have Federal supervision of fishing in the Chesapeake and its tributaries, but if this could not be obtained, the two States should pass laws establishing a closed season from sunset Saturday until Monday morning.

Dr. Jones said to-day that the best plan would be to have Federal supervision of fishing in the Chesapeake and its tributaries, but if this could not be obtained, the two States should pass laws establishing a closed season from sunset Saturday until Monday morning.

Dr. Jones said to-day that the best plan would be to have Federal supervision of fishing in the Chesapeake and its tributaries, but if this could not be obtained, the two States should pass laws establishing a closed season from sunset Saturday until Monday morning.

Dr. Jones said to-day that the best plan would be to have Federal supervision of fishing in the Chesapeake and its tributaries, but if this could not be obtained, the two States should pass laws establishing a closed season from sunset Saturday until Monday morning.

Dr. Jones said to-day that the best plan would be to have Federal supervision of fishing in the Chesapeake and its tributaries, but if this could not be obtained, the two States should pass laws establishing a closed season from sunset Saturday until Monday morning.

Dr. Jones said to-day that the best plan would be to have Federal supervision of fishing in the Chesapeake and its tributaries, but if this could not be obtained, the two States should pass laws establishing a closed season from sunset Saturday until Monday morning.

Dr. Jones said to-day that the best plan would be to have Federal supervision of fishing in the Chesapeake and its tributaries, but if this could not be obtained, the two States should pass laws establishing a closed season from sunset Saturday until Monday morning.

Dr. Jones said to-day that the best plan would be to have Federal supervision of fishing in the Chesapeake and its tributaries, but if this could not be obtained, the two States should pass laws establishing a closed season from sunset Saturday until Monday morning.

Dr. Jones said to-day that the best plan would be to have Federal supervision of fishing in the Chesapeake and its tributaries, but if this could not be obtained, the two States should pass laws establishing a closed season from sunset Saturday until Monday morning.

WAR ON SULZER TAKEN INTO WALL STREET

Evidence to Show He Bought Stocks With Money Given for Campaign.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
New York, August 6.—The Frawley legislative investigating committee today carried its war on Governor Sulzer into Wall Street. At its first meeting in Manhattan, held at the City Hall, it attempted to show that the Governor had actually spent in the stock market money contributed to his campaign, and not accounted for by him as provided by law.

After proving that he had received, but had not accounted for three checks totaling $2,000, in addition to the two produced at the Albany session, the committee's counsel, Eugene Lamb Richards, laid the foundation for what he contends will be proof that the Governor during the campaign invested $11,500 in the stock of the Big Four Railroad, a subsidiary of the New York Central, transacting business under the name of "account 509" on the books of Fuller & Gray, stock brokers.

What was established was this: 1. That Governor Sulzer deposited in the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company between October 1, 1912, and January 1, 1913, the sum of $24,507 and had a balance January 1 of $22,527.47. 2. That Louis A. Sarecky, the Governor's authorized agent, deposited in the Mutual Alliance Trust Company $12,495.93 between September 1, 1912, and October 12. The two deposit accounts total nearly $37,000. The withdrawals were comparatively trifling.

That somebody (and the committee's counsel said it was the Governor) and that he can prove it, bought 200 shares of C. C. & St. L. (Big Four) stock, October 21, 1912, through Fuller & Gray, and still carries an account on that firm's books.

The onslought on the Governor will be resumed to-morrow. More checks are promised, and the effort to prove that the owner of "account 509" and William Sulzer are one and identical, will be continued. This effort was blocked to-day by the refusal of members of the firm to answer.

The biggest check was for $1,000 from Henry Morgenthau, who was acting treasurer of the Democratic National Committee in the last campaign. The check which bore Mr. Sulzer's signature was identified by Robert A. Simon, vice-president of the Henry Morgenthau Company.

The second check, for $500, came from William F. McCombs, chairman of the National Democratic Committee. Secretary Sarecky denied the Governor's name on it with a rubber stamp.

Dr. Jones said to-day that the best plan would be to have Federal supervision of fishing in the Chesapeake and its tributaries, but if this could not be obtained, the two States should pass laws establishing a closed season from sunset Saturday until Monday morning.

Dr. Jones said to-day that the best plan would be to have Federal supervision of fishing in the Chesapeake and its tributaries, but if this could not be obtained, the two States should pass laws establishing a closed season from sunset Saturday until Monday morning.

Dr. Jones said to-day that the best plan would be to have Federal supervision of fishing in the Chesapeake and its tributaries, but if this could not be obtained, the two States should pass laws establishing a closed season from sunset Saturday until Monday morning.

Dr. Jones said to-day that the best plan would be to have Federal supervision of fishing in the Chesapeake and its tributaries, but if this could not be obtained, the two States should pass laws establishing a closed season from sunset Saturday until Monday morning.

Dr. Jones said to-day that the best plan would be to have Federal supervision of fishing in the Chesapeake and its tributaries, but if this could not be obtained, the two States should pass laws establishing a closed season from sunset Saturday until Monday morning.

Dr. Jones said to-day that the best plan would be to have Federal supervision of fishing in the Chesapeake and its tributaries, but if this could not be obtained, the two States should pass laws establishing a closed season from sunset Saturday until Monday morning.

Dr. Jones said to-day that the best plan would be to have Federal supervision of fishing in the Chesapeake and its tributaries, but if this could not be obtained, the two States should pass laws establishing a closed season from sunset Saturday until Monday morning.

Dr. Jones said to-day that the best plan would be to have Federal supervision of fishing in the Chesapeake and its tributaries, but if this could not be obtained, the two States should pass laws establishing a closed season from sunset Saturday until Monday morning.

Dr. Jones said to-day that the best plan would be to have Federal supervision of fishing in the Chesapeake and its tributaries, but if this could not be obtained, the two States should pass laws establishing a closed season from sunset Saturday until Monday morning.

Dr. Jones said to-day that the best plan would be to have Federal supervision of fishing in the Chesapeake and its tributaries, but if this could not be obtained, the two States should pass laws establishing a closed season from sunset Saturday until Monday morning.

Dr. Jones said to-day that the best plan would be to have Federal supervision of fishing in the Chesapeake and its tributaries, but if this could not be obtained, the two States should pass laws establishing a closed season from sunset Saturday until Monday morning.

Broad Rock Water Reaches YOU Wonderfully Pure

Why don't you personally inspect the source of the Water you are drinking? Broad Rock Spring is of easy access, and visitors are always welcome. We will be glad to show you why.

Broad Rock Water Reaches YOU Wonderfully Pure

and put it into the Mutual Alliance Trust Company. Alexander Gordon, Mr. McCombs's law partner, identified this check.

The third contribution came from John Lynn, of the importing firm of John Lynn & Co., of this city, and was apparently certified so that it might be cashed. The check was verified by Miss Sarah McKenzie, secretary to Mr. Lynn.

Following the introduction of the checks, F. H. Hornby, assistant secretary of the Mutual Alliance Trust Company, testified as to the checks' account, and Edwin Gibbs, assistant secretary of the Farmers Trust Company, told of the Sulzer account, the totals of which are given above. An interesting feature of Mr. Gibbs's statement was that deposits totaling $7,500 were made. Also $6,100 of the total deposits were made in cash, and in December, long after the campaign had ended.

Mr. Richards, after the introduction of the bank testimony, called attention to the fact that the Sulzer statement showed about sixty-eight contributions aggregating $5,160, whereas the deposits at the Mutual Alliance Trust Company from the day of Mr. Sulzer's nomination until his election amounted to about $22,000. Enumerating the checks making up this total, Mr. Richards showed that there is ninety-four, instead of the sixty-eight, mentioned in the Sulzer statement.

According to the expert opinion here, the salvation of a fleet in action depends largely upon the torpedo destroyer. Secretary Daniels said significantly today that when he said he favored an adequate building program he included "auxiliaries which complete a modern fleet."

These views of Secretary Daniels show that he has learned of the sentiment throughout the country in favor of restoring the United States navy to the place such a nation should hold, and which it held before Admiral Dewey's annual suggestions to the House Naval Committee were scuttled.

In addition to Secretary Daniels's views on the navy, it is known that he favors the development of every naval yard and station on the United States coast at which any building work can be done. He has said that with a large number of yards, with building facilities, even if the small yards could do only the work of repairing and the building of smaller craft, the development would push the big yards and allow them to push a program of rapid completion of ships of the Dreadnought type.

Secretary Daniels's views on the navy, it is known that he favors the development of every naval yard and station on the United States coast at which any building work can be done. He has said that with a large number of yards, with building facilities, even if the small yards could do only the work of repairing and the building of smaller craft, the development would push the big yards and allow them to push a program of rapid completion of ships of the Dreadnought type.

Secretary Daniels's views on the navy, it is known that he favors the development of every naval yard and station on the United States coast at which any building work can be done. He has said that with a large number of yards, with building facilities, even if the small yards could do only the work of repairing and the building of smaller craft, the development would push the big yards and allow them to push a program of rapid completion of ships of the Dreadnought type.

Secretary Daniels's views on the navy, it is known that he favors the development of every naval yard and station on the United States coast at which any building work can be done. He has said that with a large number of yards, with building facilities, even if the small yards could do only the work of repairing and the building of smaller craft, the development would push the big yards and allow them to push a program of rapid completion of ships of the Dreadnought type.

Secretary Daniels's views on the navy, it is known that he favors the development of every naval yard and station on the United States coast at which any building work can be done. He has said that with a large number of yards, with building facilities, even if the small yards could do only the work of repairing and the building of smaller craft, the development would push the big yards and allow them to push a program of rapid completion of ships of the Dreadnought type.

Secretary Daniels's views on the navy, it is known that he favors the development of every naval yard and station on the United States coast at which any building work can be done. He has said that with a large number of yards, with building facilities, even if the small yards could do only the work of repairing and the building of smaller craft, the development would push the big yards and allow them to push a program of rapid completion of ships of the Dreadnought type.

Secretary Daniels's views on the navy, it is known that he favors the development of every naval yard and station on the United States coast at which any building work can be done. He has said that with a large number of yards, with building facilities, even if the small yards could do only the work of repairing and the building of smaller craft, the development would push the big yards and allow them to push a program of rapid completion of ships of the Dreadnought type.

Secretary Daniels's views on the navy, it is known that he favors the development of every naval yard and station on the United States coast at which any building work can be done. He has said that with a large number of yards, with building facilities, even if the small yards could do only the work of repairing and the building of smaller craft, the development would push the big yards and allow them to push a program of rapid completion of ships of the Dreadnought type.

Secretary Daniels's views on the navy, it is known that he favors the development of every naval yard and station on the United States coast at which any building work can be done. He has said that with a large number of yards, with building facilities, even if the small yards could do only the work of repairing and the building of smaller craft, the development would push the big yards and allow them to push a program of rapid completion of ships of the Dreadnought type.

Secretary Daniels's views on the navy, it is known that he favors the development of every naval yard and station on the United States coast at which any building work can be done. He has said that with a large number of yards, with building facilities, even if the small yards could do only the work of repairing and the building of smaller craft, the development would push the big yards and allow them to push a program of rapid completion of ships of the Dreadnought type.

Secretary Daniels's views on the navy, it is known that he favors the development of every naval yard and station on the United States coast at which any building work can be done. He has said that with a large number of yards, with building facilities, even if the small yards could do only the work of repairing and the building of smaller craft, the development would push the big yards and allow them to push a program of rapid completion of ships of the Dreadnought type.

Secretary Daniels's views on the navy, it is known that he favors the development of every naval yard and station on the United States coast at which any building work can be done. He has said that with a large number of yards, with building facilities, even if the small yards could do only the work of repairing and the building of smaller craft, the development would push the big yards and allow them to push a program of rapid completion of ships of the Dreadnought type.

Secretary Daniels's views on the navy, it is known that he favors the development of every naval yard and station on the United States coast at which any building work can be done. He has said that with a large number of yards, with building facilities, even if the small yards could do only the work of repairing and the building of smaller craft, the development would push the big yards and allow them to push a program of rapid completion of ships of the Dreadnought type.

Secretary Daniels's views on the navy, it is known that he favors the development of every naval yard and station on the United States coast at which any building work can be done. He has said that with a large number of yards, with building facilities, even if the small yards could do only the work of repairing and the building of smaller craft, the development would push the big yards and allow them to push a program of rapid completion of ships of the Dreadnought type.

Secretary Daniels's views on the navy, it is known that he favors the development of every naval yard and station on the United States coast at which any building work can be done. He has said that with a large number of yards, with building facilities, even if the small yards could do only the work of repairing and the building of smaller craft, the development would push the big yards and allow them to push a program of rapid completion of ships of the Dreadnought type.

Secretary Daniels's views on the navy, it is known that he favors the development of every naval yard and station on the United States coast at which any building work can be done. He has said that with a large number of yards, with building facilities, even if the small yards could do only the work of repairing and the building of smaller craft, the development would push the big yards and allow them to push a program of rapid completion of ships of the Dreadnought type.

Secretary Daniels's views on the navy, it is known that he favors the development of every naval yard and station on the United States coast at which any building work can be done. He has said that with a large number of yards, with building facilities, even if the small yards could do only the work of repairing and the building of smaller craft, the development would push the big yards and allow them to push a program of rapid completion of ships of the Dreadnought type.

Secretary Daniels's views on the navy, it is known that he favors the development of every naval yard and station on the United States coast at which any building work can be done. He has said that with a large number of yards, with building facilities, even if the small yards could do only the work of repairing and the building of smaller craft, the development would push the big yards and allow them to push a program of rapid completion of ships of the Dreadnought type.

Secretary Daniels's views on the navy, it is known that he favors the development of every naval yard and station on the United States coast at which any building work can be done. He has said that with a large number of yards, with building facilities, even if the small yards could do only the work of repairing and the building of smaller craft, the development would push the big yards and allow them to push a program of rapid completion of ships of the Dreadnought type.

Secretary Daniels's views on the navy, it is known that he favors the development of every naval yard and station on the United States coast at which any building work can be done. He has said that with a large number of yards, with building facilities, even if the small yards could do only the work of repairing and the building of smaller craft, the development would push the big yards and allow them to push a program of rapid completion of ships of the Dreadnought type.

Secretary Daniels's views on the navy, it is known that he favors the development of every naval yard and station on the United States coast at which any building work can be done. He has said that with a large number of yards, with building facilities, even if the small yards could do only the work of repairing and the building of smaller craft, the development would push the big yards and allow them to push a program of rapid completion of ships of the Dreadnought type.

Secretary Daniels's views on the navy, it is known that he favors the development of every naval yard and station on the United States coast at which any building work can be done. He has said that with a large number of yards, with building facilities, even if the small yards could do only the work of repairing and the building of smaller craft, the development would push the big yards and allow them to push a program of rapid completion of ships of the Dreadnought type.

Secretary Daniels's views on the navy, it is known that he favors the development of every naval yard and station on the United States coast at which any building work can be done. He has said that with a large number of yards, with building facilities, even if the small yards could do only the work of repairing and the building of smaller craft, the development would push the big yards and allow them to push a program of rapid completion of ships of the Dreadnought type.

Secretary Daniels's views on the navy, it is known that he favors the development of every naval yard and station on the United States coast at which any building work can be done. He has said that with a large number of yards, with building facilities, even if the small yards could do only the work of repairing and the building of smaller craft, the development would push the big yards and allow them to push a program of rapid completion of ships of the Dreadnought type.

Secretary Daniels's views on the navy, it is known that he favors the development of every naval yard and station on the United States coast at which any building work can be done. He has said that with a large number of yards, with building facilities, even if the small yards could do only the work of repairing and the building of smaller craft, the development would push the big yards and allow them to push a program of rapid completion of ships of the Dreadnought type.

Secretary Daniels's views on the navy, it is known that he favors the development of every naval yard and station on the United States coast at which any building work can be done. He has said that with a large number of yards, with building facilities, even if the small yards could do only the work of repairing and the building of smaller craft, the development would push the big yards and allow them to push a program of rapid completion of ships of the Dreadnought type.

Secretary Daniels's views on the navy, it is known that he favors the development of every naval yard and station on the United States coast at which any building work can be done. He has said that with a large number of yards, with building facilities, even if the small yards could do only the work of repairing and the building of smaller craft, the development would push the big yards and allow them to push a program of rapid completion of ships of the Dreadnought type.

AMBITIOUS PLANS FOR GREATER NAVY

(Continued From First Page.)

ing out of four battleships and sixteen torpedo boat destroyers. Admiral Dewey is always in possession of the most exact information concerning the shipbuilding program of other nations. He has given no interview on the subject of the duty of the United States at this juncture, but he dominates the board and his recommendation for four battleships show that he believes and has written that it is only by extraordinary methods that the United States, now far behind, can catch up with the naval procession.

The recommendation of sixteen torpedo boats is particularly illuminating. The United States is behind several of the nations in this arm of the service, and Japan is forging up close to England in that very important part of a battleship fleet.

According to the expert opinion here, the salvation of a fleet in action depends largely upon the torpedo destroyer. Secretary Daniels said significantly today that when he said he favored an adequate building program he included "auxiliaries which complete a modern fleet."

These views of Secretary Daniels show that he has learned of the sentiment throughout the country in favor of restoring the United States navy to the place such a nation should hold, and which it held before Admiral Dewey's annual suggestions to the House Naval Committee were scuttled.